CLASS HISTORY

EARLY in the fall of 1923, a green collection of men and women gathered together within the portals of old Middlebury. They were ignorant in the ways of college life, but experience is a great teacher! We went through the traditional rain party, and other things that the mind of the sophomore devises. The men had no place to eat together, consequently no union of strength, and accordingly we were weak. 1926 beat us in every class contest except the rope-pull, from which we emerged victorious.

When we returned for our second year, we had lost a few members, but gained some new ones to take their places. We were all better acquainted, and looked forward toward a bigger year. Our Hop was an event of which we were all proud. Good music and general congeniality helped toward an enjoyable evening for all. During this Sophomore year, more of our members achieved honors on the campus. We were well represented in practically all of the college activities, and slowly but surely making a name for ourselves.

So far, our third year has been the best. This is right, for progress comes with growth and improvement. Now we are all looking forward to Junior Week as the crowning achievement of our class. We have a good committee, and feel confident, with them, that the week as a whole, and each event therein will reflect credit on 1927.

BEHOLD the spectre at our banquet! Not, you understand, an unwelcome guest, but as a haunting shadow where money is concerned Charlie has few equals. That’s why he’s managing the money for this book.

Add to that a hearty grin, an irrepressible penchant for a good time; behind it all a character as honest as the day is long (or the night either for that matter) and you have a faint picture of this steadfast friend.

SHADES of departed frogs! Evil stenches from the Chem. Lab. and the Dissecting Room! And in the midst of it all a tall, dark haired, smiling chap. That’s “Bab”. If you want to know about the epiglottis of a frog, he can tell you. Or if it’s the formula for carbonyl chloride, just apply to him. Always ready to lend a hand. Always in demand. An A. No. 1 maker of photographic schedules—a regular guy with a host of friends.

Bacon arrived in our midst in Sophomore year. Being one of these quiet, self-contained chaps he doesn’t occupy himself much with the frivolities and flurrys of Campus life. Not, we’d have you understand, that he is of a sullen and morose disposition—quite the contrary.

Whether he is a descendant of the notable Sir Francis we have not as yet ascertained, but a predilection for Warner Science would seem to point to such.

A shadowy form darts to and fro amongst us, but in a momentary pause one can see that it is really “Bick” with nervous oscillating wings poised for instant flight.

We fear lest his precipitous flights from Midd. to Bristol and back again for Monday classes will relegate him to an ethereal scrap heap. Perhaps a diet of raw eggs, and a good rest would be the most expedient for saving a good man for Middlebury.

Announcing his ecclesiastical holi-

Well not from his demeanor that's certain. As a personification of smoothness, brains, and bluff, “Clem” outstrips them all. Studies, thinks this bright youth, are unnecessary evils. Never mind. As a socializer you rank A. plus and as a business

“Pope” is nothing if not all round, and

A GENTLEMAN and an actor! What more can be said of a man? “Ed” has been prominent in dramatics since he joined our ranks, and achieved his greatest triumph in “March Hares.” We feel that he has a career before him on the stage, and if he should choose to follow that vocation when he graduates, a prediction of brilliant success will not be far wrong.

WITHOUT a doubt “Cut” is the intellectual leader of our class. He has the quality, so rare in mortals, of carrying many loads, and of doing justice to them all. His work on the Campus and his acting as perpetrator of this year book, bespeak a literary trend of mind that should be of value to him some day. In addition to this, he will, we hope, be sporting the well known “key”, of which, I blush to say, there will be far too few wearers in our class. So let us give him due credit for his good work, and thank our stars that he saw fit to be in our ranks.

Want to know what "Ed" can do? Turn to the opening page of the Humor section. That Indian fakir with his panther is none other than the creature of this boy's bright fancy and deftly handled pen. As for other things—well studies have no power to jar the youth's complacency, but music, as exemplified by the college band, has strong attractions. "Jawn" or to be more informal, "Jac", is by nature a quiet man. There's that old saying: "Still waters run deep". Just where they run and how deep is the question. But we know that in this case they run to Weybridge house, and it's getting pretty deep! We're glad to see Jack back at Midd. this year. He took a whirl at Boston town for awhile but soon succumbed to the "call of the wilds" and returned to these rock-bound hills. We almost forgot to say that he can blow his own horn. Hockey (1); Glee Club (1) (2) (5); Wig and Pen (1) (2) (3); College Choir (3); Women's Photographic and Circulation Editor 1927 Kaleidoscope (3); Junior Play Cast (5).

We quite agree with you, "Barks", and we are mighty glad you are always singing, whether it is in the hall of the dormitories or in the Choir. When not singing, she is dancing. The Charleston is her prime delight. But it would be quite unfair to give the impression that "Barks" has no serious side to her nature. Although believing variety to be necessary in all things, she is not entirely a pleasure-loving creature, as her exceedingly high marks—how many A's were there this last semester, "Barks"?—and her work in the Play Production course and on the Kaleidoscope Board give proof.
ELIZABETH ELECTA BEAN
WESTMINSTER, VERMONT
Prepared at Quincy High School
"You know I say just what I think
And nothing more or less."
Wig and Pen (2) (3); World Fellowship Committee Y. W. C. A. (2) (5); Maqua Club (5).

The class librarian! It takes a decisive person to manage obstreperous freshmen, new to the ways of the library, as Elizabeth does! We wonder if her pretty red hair gives aid at such times? But few who have seen the twinkle in her eyes are deceived by her resolute reserved manner. Her pleasant companionship, her keen observations and her dry humor are worthy of cultivation. If she decides to be a librarian, her success will be assured from the start.

MARJORIE ANNA BILLINGS
RIFTON, VERMONT
Prepared at Middlebury High School
"What stature is she of?
Just as high as my heart!"
Baseball (2); Pyramid Club (2) (3); Wig and Pen (3).

"Billee", so 'tis said, patronized the psycho-analyst, and he told her the most amazing things. We are curious as to whether she followed his direction and kept a record of the results! It would be decidedly interesting reading. "Billee" is such a quiet, unobtrusive little person that we scarcely remember that she is present—that is, if we do not know her. But the inhabitants of Pearson’s Basement will tell you another story. One is at first amazed to see such a little person carrying such big trays, but one soon discovers that, though little, "she’s a terror for her size."
MARY DEAN BIRDSALL
MT. KISCO, NEW YORK

Prepared at Mt. Kisco High School

"She has twice or thrice cut Cupid's bowstring; And the little hangman dare not shoot at her."

Baseball (1); Spanish Club (1); Basketball (1) (2) (3); Manager (3); French Club (1) (5); Class Secretary (2); Sophomore Hop Committee (2); Wig and Pen (2) (5); Junior Prom Committee (5).

H owever, we have an idea that at last "the little hangman" has found his courage again. At least, "Birdie" is always smiling these days, and is seldom seen unescorted. We wonder if the rule saying that one may entertain but one night a week at the Chateau in English disturbs her. Evidently not to any great extent. What "Birdie" would have missed if she had not gone to a coeducational college. And what the class of '27 would have missed without her!

RAMONA ADELAIDE BROWN

"A daughter of the gods, divinely tall!"

Track (1); Glee Club (1); French Club (1) (2) (5); Wig and Pen (1) (2) (5); Pan-Hellenic Council.

Ramona's favorite query is, "Coming, Thel?" Because, of course, Ramona is always on time! We hear that she is a fond pursuer of Latin. Well, that may be, but you are not going to teach it, are you, Ramona? What is the little scheme that you and Thelma have decided upon concerning your occupation when your college course is completed? Maybe it's a tearoom. If so, the class of '27 will endeavor to patronize you.
HELEN ROBERTS CHURCH
EAST SHOREHAM, VERMONT
Prepared at Brandon High School
"Impregnable as Gibraltar."
Pyramid Club (2) (3); Wig and Pen (5).

When Helen has made up her mind, woe betide the person who endeavors to change it. A conscientious student as is evident to all who frequent the library, careful in all detailed work, Helen is sufficient unto herself. Seldom frequenting dormitory life, Helen is something of an unknown quantity. Do you believe in hidden complexes, Helen? If so, won't you tell us yours?

HELEN RUTH COLE

Prepared at Spaulding High School
"Efficiency is her middle name."
Outing Club (2); Pyramid Club (2) (3); Secretary (2); House Chairman (3); Wig and Pen (5); Room Committee Y. W. C. A. (3).

Efficiency is truly Helen's middle name, although to look at it the unobservant person might call it Ruth. One day a friend wailed at her, "I've got so many things to do—I'll never finish them and I can't do them anyway."

Helen laughed, and said, "You could be doing them while you're talking about it." That's Helen—she doesn't talk about it—she does it—be it enforcing quiet hours in noisy Bat Cot corridors, teaching a class in gymnasium or demonstrating how to clean a chicken. And in her leisure hours, she is ready for anything.
CLEONE COMINGS

“Stickers for sale; guaranteed to stick.
Twenty-five cents down, the rest in weekly payments.”

Cast “The Prince Chap” (1); Cast “Inbad the Tailor” (1); Orchestra (1) (2); Glee Club (1) (2) (5); Wig and Pen (1) (2) (5); College Choir (5); Y. W. C. A. Cabinet (5); Junior Play Cast (5).

Evidently, Cleone believed this to be one of those golden opportunities which should not be missed. We quite agree with her. But she is not the only one to be congratulated. There is an old saying that Vermont has long been known for her fair women, fine horses and maple sugar. Knowing that Cleone is a native of Vermont state, the class of ’27 is agreed that at least the first part of this saying still holds true. Truly Vermont produces fair women.

MARIAN LOUISE COOLEY
WATERBURY, VERMONT

“Energy and persistence conquer all things.”

Glee Club (1); French Club (1) (2) (5); Wig and Pen (1) (2) (5); Pyramid Club (2) (5); Orchestra (5); Rural Discussion Group (5).

“Cooley” is rated as being the greatest of the Pearson’s Basement gang. Her chief duty is to act as a judge in the Spear-Elwell debates. When she isn’t spending her time in this noble capacity, one will be sure to find her tearing her hair at a math problem or talking volubly to herself in Italian. “Cooley” fell for gym when she first jumped over the horse freshman year, and since then she has loyally pursued all Miss Young’s courses. There’s a rumor that she showed her talent in that line last summer as a playground leader.
JESSIE LOUISE COVERT
NEWBURGH, NEW YORK

Prepared at Newburgh Free Academy

"She's a maid after our own hearts, boy—
No Sunday-go-to-meeting airs about HER!"

Student Government Representative (1); Glee Club (1) (5); Choir (5); Wig and Pen (5); Art Editor 1927 Kaleidoscope (3); Junior Week Play Committee (5).

"Pat" has almost as much executive spirit as all the other members of the class of '27 put together. When "Pat" moves things get done! Such a busy person! Her especial talent is along artistic lines. Many of the plays are made the more successful because of the scenery which she paints for them. "Pat" sings too. Bluff and hearty, she does so many things that we would not be surprised to find her doing anything from presiding over the Supreme Court to running a steam-engine!

LOUISE MAE COVEY
KATONAH, NEW YORK

Prepared at Katonah High School

"Little—but apt in the field."

Basketball (1); Hockey (1); French Club (5); Junior Prom Committee (5).

"Lou", though little is an extremely attractive bit of humanity, as many members of the southern side of the campus have discovered since her entrance into college. And fascinating, too. If you had thought her quiet and need proof as to this quality, there is a constantly visible one, as all who live at the Chateau can testify. Personally we think the proof unnecessary (not meaning to cast any aspersions on it, however), for did you ever see a more agreeable, pleasant little person? And, ah, how she can dance!
DOROTHY LOUISE COX

Prepared at Amesbury High School
“In her brain she hath strange places
Crammed with observations.”
Glee Club (1); Wig and Pen (1) (2); Campus Reporter (2); English Club (5); Rural Discussion Group (3).

“Dot” is one of the literati. What a wealth of fancy and fantasy run in her mind. How keenly she observes! What delightfully humorous little twists in her thoughts—and how we enjoy them when she treats us to some of them. Only recently did we know that she writes, but we are hoping that she will continue. At a time when most young amateurs are telling us of hidden complexes, of death and gloom we enjoy someone who by way of contrast writes on such homely themes as a radiator, the candlelight or a sleigh ride, as the case may be.

Track (1); Sophomore Hop Committee (2); Wig and Pen (1) (2) (3); Social Committee Y. W. C. A. (2) (3); Cast “Grumpy” (3); Panhellenic Council (3).

But we are willing to bet that “Peter” can keep “Polly”. And we congratulate him on his good taste. Living at the Practice House is such very good practice. Anyone who can put on as finished productions as are “Polly’s” plays for the Play Production course is quite capable of running anything. And then, such a scholar, be it French or Interior Decorating—and a picture of fashion! What more could one desire?
MIRIAM HELEN DEEDMAN

"High grace, the dower of queens."
Wig and Pen (3); French Club (3); Panhellenic Council.
On seeing "Deedie" for the first time, one might gain the impression of her being rather a queenly personage, and difficult to approach. But she has a variety of moods. Did you ever hear her contagious giggle? And were you able to withstand it? Did you ever hear her moan, "O, kids, I'm hungry!" A rugged appetite is an expression of the energetic constitution of our companion. She finds a banana split quite as timely at nine A.M. as at nine P.M. Did you ever see her serious? Then, she's very, very, serious, indeed!

No revel is complete without "Derry", her eyes shining mischievously. She delights in a function or a dance. But she has other interests, as well. Her connection with various athletic teams and her position on the Women's Athletic Council show her ability along other lines than social. "Derry" is almost always smiling, and we are hoping that she will never lose her delightful little giggle, for she wouldn't be "Derry" without it.
HELEN SARAH ELLSWORTH

Prepared at West Hartford High School

"Her magic is not far to seek: She is so human."

Sophomore Hop Committee (2); Class Secretary (5); Spanish Club (5); Wig and Pen (5); Y.W.C.A. Cabinet (5); Junior Prom Committee (3).

HELEN is a dear, dark little piece whose abilities range from the transportation of heavy trays to the fulfilling of Cupid’s varied wishes. She is sympathetic and smiling and very human indeed. We prophesy for her a pleasant future with just enough ups and downs to make it interesting; that is the kind of future that comes to people who are serious and fun-loving at the same time.

GUNHILD AUGUSTA ELFSTROM

Glee Club (1); German Club (1) (2) (5); Vice-President (2); Secretary (5); Outing Club (2); Pyramid Club (2) (3); Vice-President (5); Rural Discussion Group (5); Wig and Pen (5).

WOULD you have ever suspected this of "Gunny"? We never did until we read some of the papers which she wrote for American Lit. during her Sophomore year. We discovered that "Gunny" can be very fiery when necessary. But most of us know her as a kindly person, always ready to listen to one’s troubles and to aid one in any manner possible, always willing to sit down and chat for a few minutes, particularly if the conversation concerns Schenectady or its inhabitants. And we must congratulate "Gunny" in advance for the "Key" which she will surely wear.
FRANCES MARY FROST
ST. ALBANS, VERMONT

"Compel me not to toe the mark,
Be ever sure and true;
But rather let me do those things
Which I ought not to do."

Campus Reporter (1) (2); News Editor (2); Contributing Editor Saxonian (1) (2) (5); Wig and Pen (3).

CRISP black curls, merry eyes, sensitive mouth, a surprisingly low voice and an amazing ability to get the most out of life—that’s "Frosty." She’s such a little person that we wonder where all her abounding energy and eagerness is stored. Working enthusiastically for the Saxonian, writing stories and poetry, playing her "uke", one associates "Frosty" with bright autumn leaves. Having to escape now and then from the prosaicness of the ordinary world, she seems a person for whom rules were not made. And yet—we will tell you a secret—this very real genius of the class of ’27 is interested, mysteriously enough, in such courses as cooking and Household Management.

RUBY DAISY ELWELL
BENNINGTON, VERMONT

"Beatrew me! But you have a quick wit!"

Hockey (1) (2); All-Midd. Hockey (2); Room Committee Y. W. C. A. (2); Pyramid Club (2) (3); Rural Committee Y. W. C. A. (5); Rural Discussion Group (3); Wig and Pen (5).

BEHOLD a jester! Ruby always makes us laugh. Don’t misunderstand, please. Of course, there have been occasions when we have laughed at her, but usually it’s with her. Ruby and her giggle are as inseparable as a pair of knickers. And arguments? From morn to night she and her roommate argue. When they get tired, one of them says, "Shift," and they are at it again. If you don’t know Ruby, you have missed one who adds such fun to life as to make it well worth living.

Captain Hockey (1); Class Secretary (1); Assistant Editor Campus (5); French Club (5); Spanish Club (5); Wig and Pen (5).
"Red" keeps much of her energy and brilliance hidden under a cloak of reserve, but when she casts that cloak aside, fun and brilliance appear to amaze and delight those about her. Clever and keen, at times interested, at others indifferent, fascinating, with a touch of mystery in her personality to add to its charm, such are the attributes by which "Red" is characterized.

Always ready for a good time, be it what it may, a party to be planned, a midnight feast to be made ready, "Glynn" is willing to undertake it. She was one of the members of the committee for our first class formal, the Hop, and did good work on it. Clever hands—to show you how the dress you are laboring over may be given a Parisian air; clever feet—to show you the latest dance steps. And, withal, many hours spent in the library. Such is "Glynn."

it is, we wish her the best of success.

THELMA and Ramona form the only original long and short of it. Where there is one, the other is sure to be near. They could no more be separated than a saucer and its teacup. Thelma’s keen sense of humor and her love for a good time are notable. Do not think, however, that she does not lean to the academic. On sundry and solemn occasions, she has been known to study. PEP! That’s “Rummy’s” middle name! What she does, she does in a hurry, and then for a gay time. Her management of the house chairmanship in Bat Cot has shown a remarkable mixture of human understanding and good judgment. Meeting “Rummy” and hearing her humorous side lights on life in general make a bright spot in one’s day. And if you ever need a listener, “Rummy” is great at it. She evidently believes that things are not what they seem, but what we make of them.

We find that Gertrude plans to leave us and receive her sheepskin at the end of this summer. Such brilliance is quite beyond us. She takes seven courses more lightly than the majority of us take five, and always has times to join in deep discussions, to recite a humorous poem for your benefit, or sing you a Spanish song. And did you ever try to keep up with her on snowshoes? We did—once, but she left us behind on the very first stretch, and was soon only a speck in the distance. We are truly sorry, Gertrude, that you are to leave us. Our best wishes will follow you.

We hear that "Jo" even keeps her "uke" in a suitcase! Yet at the proper time and occasion, the "uke" and "Ruthie," as well, become very gay. She is one of the most loyal persons that we have ever known. How she finds time to be so friendly is a mystery for she revels in such courses as Poly-Sci. and Economics, and gets quite chummy with such immense volumes in the library as would frighten an ordinary person just to look at them.

It takes no small amount of courage to drive to school each day of the four college years, but this is what Catherine is doing. No matter what the weather, no matter how high the drifts, nothing can stop her.

It is a shame that "Teddy", with all her contact with fairy things and her daydreams should have so many prosaic details of Kaleidoscope and Student Government with which to deal. However, though they do fill her brown eyes with anguish and cause her brown hair to be torn now and then, she seems to manage very well. LOVELY light hair, beautiful complexion, mischievous eyes, and a soft voice are only a few of Elga's charming attributes. However, 'tis said by one who knows, that she is a very charming ruler, and we are quite willing to agree. Ellen will live to rival Methusaleh, we're thinking, for she has a great variety of interests. She is one of the most capable members of our class. She can do anything from filling responsible positions and leading Y. W. in a worthy manner to being a leader of outdoor activities among the women, and she has not avoided some of the hardest courses in college, but has mastered them. Throughout all these activities, one is impressed with her good sportsmanship.
MARGARET LENORE SEDGWICK
PASSAIC, NEW JERSEY

Prepared at Passaic High School

“There is no substitute for thorough-going, ardent and sincere earnestness.”

Basketball (1) (2) (5); All-Midd. (2); Meetings Committee Y. W. C. A. (2); Sophomore Hop Committee (2); Wig and Pen (2) (5); Class Vice-President (5).

“PEG” has all the quiet virtues of a student: seriousness and earnestness and unobtrusive efficiency. She is a thinker and a doer and a lover of lovely things. But her light-haired, youthful attractiveness has, we are sure, more than a bit of fun and jollity and love of social functions tucked away in it.

RUTH ELAINE SIBLEY
MORIAH, NEW YORK

Prepared at Mineville High School

“It does not take much strength to do things; but it requires great strength to decide on what to do.”

World Fellowship Committee Y. W. C. A. (2) (5); Wig and Pen (2) (5); French Club (2) (5).

“SHALL I or shan’t I?” or “Aren’t you ever coming?” One or the other is “Sib’s” favorite remark. It doesn’t pay to worry, Ruth, and gives one wrinkles, too. However, few of us are blessed with as soft and as pleasingly modulated a voice as yours, so that you can better afford to wonder than most of us. And taking seven courses this semester—what ambition!
ELINOR ALLEN SMITH
WEST HARTFORD, CONNECTICUT
K K I
Prepared at West Hartford High School
"Joyous and eager; she is in for everything."
Women’s Glee Club (1); Sophomore Rules Committee (2); Wig and Pen (2) (3); French Club (3).

“Ginger” is a product of the Nutmeg State, and just you dare to say anything about said state that is not complimentary in her presence! We did once—but being quick to learn, we never committed that error again. We think that her picture is extremely good, but one mustn’t take any stock in the almost saintly expression of it, for “Ginger’s” eyes are always bubbling over with mischief even when she looks sober,—which isn’t often.

HILDA ELIZABETH SMITH
BAYFORT, LONG ISLAND
Prepared at Patchogue High School
“The future brightens with orange blossoms.
Hymen and Felicity
Stand with us here ready to unite two amorous and bashful lovers.”
Women’s Glee Club (1); Spanish Club (1) (2) (5); French Club (5); German Club (2) (5); Pyramid Club (2) (3).

At times we wonder if Hilda is not lonesome this year. If so, she manages to conceal it admirably under her friendly little smile. She is a tranquil little person, delighting in Geology and Spanish, and quite ready to lend a sympathetic ear to her friends’ woes. But, then, having a private post office box regularly chucked full of mail is a fine prescription for the inevitable ills of daily life, isn’t it, Hilda?
Rhoda Brock Southall
BENNINGTON, VERMONT
Φ M
Prepared at Bennington High School
"Whatever may occur—within reason—
She is armed against destiny, married or single!"

All-Midd. Hockey (1) (2); All-Midd. Baseball
(1) (2); Basketball (1) (2) (3); House Chairman
(2); Sophomore Rules Committee (2);
Custodian W. A. A. (3); Tennis (3); Women’s Athletic Editor 1927 Kaleidoscope (3).

Defendable, straight-from-the-shoulder, playing the game with energy, Rhoda is one of our athletic lights. She plays hockey, basketball and baseball equally well, tackling each with vim and forcefulness, qualities which she puts into other matters, as well. If Rhoda says she will do a thing, one need never give it another thought. It will be done and done in a thorough manner.
It matters not whether it is getting material in for the Kaleidoscope, popping corn (which is one of her favorite pastimes) or playing bridge.

Rachel Louise Spear
BARRE, VERMONT
ΑΣΔ
Prepared at Spaulding High School
"She can because she thinks she can.”

Women’s Glee Club (1); Wig and Pen (1)
(2) (5); Hockey (2) (5); Tennis (2); Saxonian
Board (2) (5); Y. W. C. A. Cabinet (3);
Student Government Council (2) (5); Junior
Play Cast (5).

The class monitor and seemingly permanent member of Student Government Council! How dignified she must be—quiet, prim and proper! But you can never have known er if you think so! She makes such a delightful man as we can prove by showing you pictures taken when dressed as one, that it’s a pity she doesn’t permanently don long trousers, a moustache and a cane. Her hobbies are playing the harmonica and arguing. And, Miss Elwell, her roommate, says that she has even seen her carry on both accomplishments at the same time.
THELMA TAYLOR
EAST CLEVELAND, OHIO
A K A
Prepared at East Green Academy
"As one who plots new mischief."
Transfer Ohio State College (5); French Club (5); Glee Club Accompanist (3).

THELMA is a newcomer to the class of '27, but it did not take us long to discover her ability in regard to the Charleston. She is in great demand as a masterhand at this new science. But her talent does not end there. It is said that her persuasive powers are an art in themselves. We are glad to welcome such an artist to a notable place in the class of '27.

JEANNE JOSEPHINE THEVE
NORWICH, CONNECTICUT
K K I
Prepared at Norwich Free Academy
"Hang sorrow! care will kill a cat
And therefore let's be merry!"

JEANNE is a person of great determination. Whether it is in connection with athletics, hiking or a good time, Jeanne's right there. And what's this we hear about her finishing in three and a half years and going to France to study the language? That's ambition for you—the kind the class of '27 needs. If you have any to spare, Jeanne, remember that we are your friends.
RUTH MIRIAM TUPPER
Worcester, Massachusetts
Π B Φ
Prepared at North High School
"All that's best of dark or bright Must in her aspect and her eyes."
Women's Glee Club (1) (5); Wig and Pen (1) (2) (3); Cast of "He Who Gets Slapped" (2); Sophomore Rules Committee (2); Blue Baboon Board (5).
The quotation is quite true—most of the time! But did you ever see her roll her eyes and look a bit naughty? Rather exotic in her dark attractiveness, "Tup" is a contradiction. Seemingly most interested in the jollifications of life, she has proven herself capable of running a cafeteria during the summer months, and is one of the three members of the Blue Baboon board to be chosen from the northern side of the campus.

LOU OAKLEY THOMPSON
Cornwall-on-Hudson, New York
Δ Δ Δ
Prepared at Troy Conference Academy
"I'm tired of gowns that have the waistline about the waist, and the hem around the bottom."
Wig and Pen (1) (2) (5); Social Service Committee Y. W. C. A. (2); Women's Glee Club (2) (3); College Choir (3); Science Club (5); Junior Play Cast (3).
Lou is just—Lou. If her ambition is to be original, she has notably succeeded. She is enthusiastic for whatever is at hand. Lou knows the last words in collegiate language, is among the first to know the "news", whatever it may be. Her ability to marcel is famed. And she is ready to be the life of any party, when her attention is not otherwise engaged. It is rumored that she has been the inspiration for notable poems. All in all, Lou is a modern young woman.
BLANCHE PHILIPS WALKER
EAST NORTHFIELD, MASSACHUSETTS
K K I
Prepared at Northfield Seminary
"Then I cast around to think who was the next best man, and I dropped on Moses."
W. A. A. Council (1); Publicity Committee
Y. W. C. A. (1); Social Service Committee
Y. W. C. A. (1); Women's Glee Club (1);
Membership Committee Y. W. C. A., (2);
Wig and Pen (2) (3); Cast of "Grumpy" (3);
College Choir (5); House Chairman (3);
Junior Week Play Committee (5).

AN interesting and winning conversationalist! A jester! An actress!
We made sure of the latter characteristic in Blanche’s interpretation of "Virginia" in the "Grumpy" production. A gathering could scarcely be dull if Blanche were present to keep the ball of conversation rolling, to tell the latest stories of the campus and its inhabitants. Little goes by unobserved by her dark bright eyes!

HELEN KATHERINE WHIPPLE
LEBANON, NEW HAMPSHIRE
A E A
Prepared at Lebanon High School
"She sifts, she weighs; all things are put to question!"
French Club (1) (2) (3); Social Committee (5);
Wig and Pen (2) (3); Assistant Editor Campus (3);
News Editor Campus (3); House Chairman (5); Associate Business Manager
1927 Kaleidoscope (5); Junior Prom Committee (5).

A BUSINESS woman! Careful in all details, thorough in all her work, exact in all manners, Helen gets fine results! Her connection with the Campus board and the Kaleidoscope board show that many trust her ability to get things done. Whatever she decides to enter upon is carried through to a finish. All these characteristics plus a degree of poise point to success in whatever position Helen may hold when the class of '27 has graduated.
FLORENCE GOODRICH
WYMAN
STARKSBORO, VERMONT
△ △ △
Prepared at Vermont Academy

"Seems, madam! nay, it is; I know not seems."

Hockey (1) (2); Track (1); Women's Glee Club (1); French Club (3); Blue Baboon Board (5).

Ask "Fluff" about anything from men to teacups and she will tell you most decidedly what she thinks of it—and you will be unable to repress a smile at her answer. "Fluff's" ability to enjoy her own life and that of her neighbors is amazing! Her ability to make life enjoyable for others is seen by her connection with the Blue Baboon board. She has shown a pioneer spirit in this line of work for which we commend her.

ATHLETICS
The Athletic Council is the governing board created by the Undergraduate Association to control all athletic activities of the men's college. It passes upon all policies, schedules, budgets and expenditures of the various athletic departments, and approves all elections to athletic offices. It issues insignia of the several sports. Its membership consists of five faculty members, one alumnus not a member of the faculty, and five undergraduates who are members of the Senior or Junior classes. The managers of teams are ex-officio members of the Council also.

FOOTBALL, SEASON 1925

SUMMARY OF THE SEASON

The opening of College found Coach Klevenow, starting his first season as Middlebury's football mentor, hard at work with the varsity in early fall practice, and confronted by one of the hardest problems that a new coach could be expected to face. The team was booked for the severest schedule in the College's football history, including games with Yale, Harvard, and New York University. Graduation had made heavy inroads in the material, particularly behind the line. The forwards available were mostly experienced and promised well, but Klevenow found himself hard put to it to fill the backfield berths with men who could be counted on to meet the stiff demands of the season.

Of the past year's letter men the veterans remaining to the line were Captain Potter, McLaughlin, Mullen, Brosowski, and Ehlert. Gruggel started as a forward and was later shifted into fullback position; he and R. Rice alone formed the nucleus of the new backfield. Frank and Novotny, letter men of the 1923 season, and W. Rice were also on hand to swell the forward material. The balance of the squad was composed mainly of promising prospects from the last season's Freshman team. The outlook for a good season brightened as practice went on; by the end of September the varsity could look forward with some confidence to the meeting with Yale's fast football machine.

In consideration of the great difficulties that faced Middlebury in football this year, the team's record of three victories with five defeats is one in which her supporters should take some pride. The development of the eleven was really remarkable. Overwhelmed by greatly stronger aggregations at the very outset of the schedule, the Blue and White put up the old Panther fight and all through the season played a brand of football that was a credit to Middlebury. Handicapped by the lack of weight and experience in the backfield, the team overcame these obstacles more and more in every game. In the last five contests of the season the line was stonewall in quality and gave topnotch support to backs who, if unable to travel roughshod over everything in sight, proved to be consistent ground-gainers. The varsity showed what it was capable of when it downed St. Mike’s by a score of 61–0. And although forced to take the short end of two hard-contested battles and to lose the State series by the narrow margin of four points, the Blue and White performed in truly winning style against both U. V. M. and Norwich. The whole season was marked by a steady improvement under the most adverse conditions, and Middlebury can take pride in the fine showing the eleven made in overcoming obstacles that would have spelled complete failure for some other teams.

YALE 55—MIDDLEBURY 0
Yale Bowl, October 3, 1925

Outclassed by one of the strongest teams that Yale has had in some years, smothered beneath a terrific onslaught of whirlwind plays, her line crushed by forwards far above her weight, Middlebury succumbed to the Elis in the first game of the season. With a light and inexperienced backfield and a line which lacked much of the veteran force of the past year, the Blue and White kept up a game fight to the end of a contest marked by one lightning Yale advance after another. The Big Blue attack was versatile, very swift, and marked by perfect interference; had it not been for the superb tackling of Ehlert and Brosowsky, and the defense work of Gruggel, the score would have been much higher. The ball was in the Bulldog’s possession almost the entire game and carried for a net gain of 409 yards, while Middlebury was unable to advance except on a few good plays. In the first half the Elis ran up 34 points in a series of spectacular dashes, but Middlebury stiffened and held the Bulldog scoreless for a whole period before the lighter eleven succumbed to a fresh Yale attack in the final quarter that netted the Blue 19 more points. The Panther eleven showed up well on the defense considering their opponents’ great power, and the backfield in particular surpassed expectations in the hard battle they made to stem the Blue onslaught.

HARVARD 68—MIDDLEBURY 0
Soldiers Field, October 10, 1925

Crippled by the hard game of the previous week the team fought a dogged battle in the bitterly cold, windswept Stadium against a powerful Harvard eleven that cut loose with a terrific driving attack and swept the lighter Middlebury aggregation before it to run up a score of 61–0. Weakened by injuries to line and backfield, the Panthers, fighting as Midd teams have always fought in the Stadium, were unable to stem the Crimson tide. Nevertheless, although so badly battered that every man on the team was injured, the varsity won the admiration of the crowd by the gritty battle they kept up. The Fishermen in one swift advance after another carried the ball more than 500 yards for 27 first downs, and Crosby, Howe, Cheek and Zarakov crossed the line for the Crimson touchdowns. McNeil made Middlebury’s only first down on a clever criss-cross play; but the leather was out of the Blue’s possession almost the entire game. Crosby, Cheek, and Zarakov starred for Harvard in one thrilling run after another; while Captain Potter again shone for the varsity by his spectacular work on the defense. The team without exception displayed the finest kind of fight against the overwhelming Harvard machine.
McNeil Takes it Around End for a Long Run—St. Michael's-Middlebury Game

ST. MICHAEL'S 0—MIDDLEBURY 61
Porter Field, October 17, 1925

The Black Panther, out for revenge after his two successive defeats, turned a reorganized team upon the field and, repeating Harvard's performances upon the Purple and Gold, tore through the St. Mike's eleven for nine touchdowns and a total of 61 points to the visitors' 0. Coach Klevenow, sparing his veterans, let loose the youngsters of his squad and they ran wild against the upstaters. Hinman carried the ball over for the only score of the first period; and then the team, gathering power like a Juggernaut, swept the Michael-men down the field to tally 12 points in the second quarter and 21 in both the third and the fourth. Hinman, McNeil and Blanchette circled the ends and tore through the Purple line almost at random, while Captain Potter contributed several long runs and one touchdown from a forward pass. Hinman was the outstanding scorer of the day with four touchdowns to his credit. McNeil, Blanchette and Simmons also raced across the final marker. The whole team functioned like a championship aggregation and showed the real promise in its younger players.

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY 33—MIDDLEBURY 0
New York, October 24, 1925

The powerful eleven built up by Chick Meehan took the Panther eleven into camp on the following Saturday in a loosely played game marked by many forward passes and much fumbling by both sides. The field was soggy and rain fell continuously, discouraging the small band of Middlebury rooters and making the ball hard to hold. Both teams, finding the going too slippery under foot, resorted to the aerial attack, and here the Violet had a decided advantage over the Blue and White. The Midd. forwards, fighting as sturdily as ever, turned back the N. Y. U. offensive time and again and were able to break through to smother the advance before it was well under way. But the backfield again failed to support the line and found itself helpless to stop the skillfully placed passes that the University uncorked. N. Y. U. practically won the game on passes, four of its touchdowns resulting from this mode of attack. Middlebury, although she tried any number of overhead shots and was able to complete several for good gains, was unable to turn them into tallies. N. Y. U. scored only a single touchdown in the first period on two passes following a Middlebury fumble. In the second quarter Wiley intercepted a pass and nearly succeeded in tearing away for a touchdown. N. Y. U. after getting possession of the ball scored again from two beautifully placed passes. Connors of the Violet in the same period swooped upon a Midd. fumble and fled over the line with it for another; then a little later scored again on a pass. In the second half the Panther eleven tightened up, corking the N. Y. U. aerial attack, and hurled a barrage of its own in a hard attempt to turn the game, but although able to pin the Violet down to only one more touchdown, Middlebury failed to threaten seriously, and play ended with the ball at midfield.

Tearing Through for Another Gain against St. Stephen's

ST. STEPHEN'S 6—MIDDLEBURY 7

Porter Field, October 31, 1925

This scrappy little New York eleven gave the Blue one of its best battles of the year. The game was hardfought and the teams evenly matched throughout. St. Stephen's pressed the varsity hard at all times; the game ended none too soon as the Panthers fumbled within a yard of their own goal line and a lucky break was all that saved it from turning into a score for the opponents. The Blue and White played a good, heady game, depending upon Hinman's superiority over Captain Deloria in punting, to keep us out of danger. If it had not been for the Saints' weakness in kicking, the outcome might have been different because they several times turned loose a forward-passing attack that had Middlebury baffled. In the second half this offensive led to St. Stephen's touchdown, but Brosowsky blocked Deloria's attempt at goal. Gruggel scored for Midd in the second quarter by a fast drive after an exchange of punts had given us the ball on the 12-yard line. Captain Potter's successful try for point proved the winning one for Middlebury. The line showed up especially strong on the defense again, Potter and Brosowsky starring.

TUFTS 0—MIDDLEBURY 19

Medford, November 7, 1925

Confident after its victory over St. Stephen's and anxious to get into perfect edge for the Vermont game, the team invaded Medford on November 7. With odds favoring Tufts to beat us easily, the varsity went out after the Jumbos and unleashed a versatile attack that kept them continually on the defensive. Middlebury outplayed Tufts in every department of the game, forcing an offensive which her opponents could not solve, and won by the same margin as the previous year. The game proved a big surprise to Midd supporters; it showed the effects of a hard early season upon the development of the team. In no contest so far had the varsity performed so well. In spite of a hard defense, the Jumbos were unable to prevent our crossing their goal line three times—once on a forward pass. The first quarter went scoreless, both teams displaying stiff defense when threatened. However in the second period Hinman circled the left end on a trick play and planted the pigskin behind the line for our first touchdown. The second Midd tally was made by Whittemore on a short pass in the third quarter; the final score on a line buck of five yards by R. Rice, Potter kicking the goal. Schroeder played a stellar game for Tufts.

VERMONT 7—MIDDLEBURY 6*

Centennial Field, November 14, 1925

Playing a superb game and bringing the crowd that jammed Centennial Field to their feet time and again as its slashing offensive tore through the Green and Gold, but unable to shake the jinx that seemed determined to perch on the Panther standard throughout the State series, Middlebury lost to a fighting Vermont eleven by the narrow margin of one point. It was the closest battle between the two big rivals in years. Regardless of the unfavorable records of the contenders, both were on edge as always in this classic, and the battle was a bitter one from start to finish. The annual fray saw Middlebury in topnotch form, with an overhead game that threatened her opponent with defeat several times during the contest. The Blue and White's air attack was so far superior to her adversary's that by one of football's curious tricks of fate, she won the game in all but fact. Although taking the short end of the score, Middlebury made eleven first downs by straight tactics to five for the Green and Gold, and completed ten forward passes for a total of 110 yards against one gain of 5 yards for Vermont.

The first quarter was scoreless, Middlebury being unable to open up its offensive with any effect against the stubborn Vermont line. In the second frame, however, the Panther tore loose and in a whirlwind attack, swept down the field 62 yards for our score. Brosowsky's recovery of Conway's fumble paved the way for drives by R. Rice and Hinman and short gains by Rice and Potter on passes. Gruggel battered his way across for the touchdown, but Captain Potter missed the try for goal.

*Owing to unfavorable weather conditions no satisfactory pictures were obtainable of this game.
In the second half Vermont came back with a rush and displayed their only effective offensive of the day, but it did the damage. The jinx reared its head, Middlebury fumbled soon after the kickoff, and U. V. M. marched in short steady drives to our two-yard line, where Smith carried the pigskin over to tie the score. Conway kicked what turned out to be the winning point. From then on the contest resolved itself into one desperate attempt after another on the part of the varsity to break into the scoring again. The team threatened to overwhelm Vermont in a slashing offensive in the third period, only to have a pass intercepted near the goal line. In the last quarter the Blue uncorked its best aerial attack, hurling pass after pass for consistent gains, only to lose the ball when deep into U. V. M. territory. The game ended as the varsity completed two more forwards on their final desperate drive towards the elusive Vermont goal-line.

A Lull in the Battle—Whittemore Calling 'em—Norwich-Middlebury Game

NORWICH 3—MIDDLEBURY 0
Porter Field, November 21, 1925

MIDDLEBURY lost to the Cadets for the first time in years when Norwich, putting the strongest team that they have boasted in many seasons upon the field, outplayed the Blue and White in a closely contested game. All through the season Norwich had played sterling football and they demonstrated their worth in the smooth way their eleven functioned. The game might easily have been Middlebury's had the backfield lived up to its mark of the last two contests, but the Soldiers were able to outclass us in this department, with a smashing consistent attack that kept us on the defensive a good part of the time. The Blue and White outpassed Norwich easily, and had it not been for its inability to take advantage of good opportunities, and frequent fumbling by the backs, the varsity could have scored. A number of times Middlebury had the ball within easy striking distance of their opponents' goal line only to fumble away the chance.

Norwich's score came in the second quarter after the soldier eleven, having worked the ball to our four-yard line, were held fast by a fighting defensive. Unable to make another foot through the line, Rice of the Cadets dropped back to the 15-yard line and sent the ball sailing between the posts for the lone score. The Blue's best chance came in the third quarter when the team recovered its ability to attack and carried the pigskin in a steady advance to the University's five-yard line. A touchdown seemed a certainty, but the ball was fumbled to Norwich on the following play. Rice, Garrity and Kane starred for the Soldiers and "Shorty" Rice was the best ground-gainer for Middlebury.

SUMMARY OF THE SEASON

Although the varsity started the 1925 season with practically the same lineup that made such a splendid showing in 1924, the results of the season’s schedule were rather disappointing. While the general consensus of opinion was that the team should do as well as in 1924, with so many veterans on hand, the Panther batsmen found themselves up against continued hard luck throughout the season, and seldom seemed able to show the best form of which they were felt capable. However, striving to overcome the handicap which a very short training period due to Vermont weather had placed upon them, Captain Papke and his mates acquitted themselves very creditably, for although only six victories landed in the Midd. column, many games were extremely close. The victories over Hamilton, Springfield, and St. Michael’s were the ones in which the varsity showed its real power.

The 1925 team was composed entirely of veterans of the past season, and some new material was uncovered in the Freshman Class. Frank Towne and Jack Witham bore the brunt of the hurling. They performed very creditably at all times, and when their support was functioning at its best the varsity showed itself capable of real power and punch.

While the Blue was at times able to shake off the slumps which gripped the team for long intervals, she was unable to come up to her best in the State series, and this championship again went to the University of Vermont after two hard-fought games.
After an unusually short training season during which rain severely retarded progress, the varsity opened the schedule on April 8 against Providence College at Providence, where they were taken into camp in a close game to the tune of 9 to 11. The fracas was marked by the skillful pitching of Reynolds for Providence and the hard but unbunched hitting of Banks, Novotny, and Witham. Witham, on the mound, went the full route for Middlebury.

The second game of the Easter vacation trip was played in New York against New York University, when the team met its second defeat by the score of 2 to 13. N. Y. U. pounded out thirteen hits, including a home run, and although the Blue had chances to score, the batters could not bunch their hits, and succeeded in sending only Papke and Whitney across the plate.

In the third game the City College nine defeated the varsity in a six-inning game in New York, by a score of 9 to 1. While the showing of the team was improved over that in the N. Y. U. game, C. C. N. Y. rolled up a strong lead in the early part of the fray, and our men could not get started in overcoming it. Hasseltine scored for Middlebury.

The strong Fordham University team administered the fourth consecutive defeat of the trip in the final game in New York on April 11. The Maroon battersmen bunched their hits for six runs in the second inning, and two later tallies made the final score 8 to 0. With the exception of the bad second inning Towne pitched a fine game, as did Harrington of Fordham, who kept the Midd. sluggers at bay from start to finish.

Following the Easter vacation the Black Panther played Dartmouth at Hanover on April 25, where we were again defeated to the tune of 0 to 8. Towne held the Green team scoreless for five innings before the local sluggers cut loose, but his teammates were unable to score when opportunities offered twice during the game. On the whole the varsity showed considerable improvement over the past performances.

On April 29 at Worcester, Worcester Tech. beat the team by the close margin of one run in a 12 to 11 free-for-all slugging contest. Klevenow, Simmons, and Witham occupied the mound for Midd. in a battle which was either team’s until the ninth, during which Banks shone with a home run and Witham with a triple.

In the following game the varsity broke its long losing streak and turned in one of its best victories of the season in a 9 to 5 win over Springfield College. Witham pitched effectively for the Blue, and his teammates wielded the stick heavily. Klevenow’s homer in the ninth with two on base clinched the game.

The Boston College game on May 2 in Boston will be classed as one of the best of the season, although B. C. nosed out the Panther batsmen by a 2 to 0 score and allowed them only two hits. After the third inning the varsity played an airtight defense, not a single opposing hitter reaching second, and showed real power in a ninth inning threatening rally.

The State Series opened on May 7 at home against the University of Vermont, when the team found itself unable to check the hitting streak of the Green and Gold batters and was compelled to take the short end of a 7 to 1 score. Towne stayed on the slab the entire game for Middlebury and pitched good ball except for the Vermont rally in the sixth which drove in five runs.

The second Junior Week game was a victory for the Panther, Norwich University bowing to the Blue and White by the score of 5 to 1. The game was marked by the effective work of Banks with the stick, and the pitching of Witham and Whittemore—the latter curbing a Cadet rally in the ninth in his first varsity appearance.
Again on May 9 at Burlington the University of Vermont nine conquered the varsity in a game which was no more satisfactory from a Midd. standpoint than the first. The team was rather ineffective against the pitching of Burns, and the Vermont hitters piled up a 7 to 0 score.

The Blue and White lost the fourth game of the State Series when Norwich University redeemed its first defeat at our hands in a closely played contest which resulted in a 3 to 0 score for the Cadets. A pitcher’s duel between Williams of Norwich and Witham, who allowed the home team only four hits, featured the game.

The strong St. Lawrence team handed the Midd-men another defeat on May 18 at Porter Field as the varsity continued its losing streak. Whitney scored the lone tally for Middlebury in a belated rally, while the visitors garnered 10 runs off the deliveries of Towne and Witham. Novotny led the Panther batsmen with good hitting and spectacular work in the field.

At last the varsity broke its losing streak with a decisive victory over St. Francis College on May 20, when the entire team came back into great form and found the opposing pitchers for a 6 to 1 score. Witham and Whittemore functioned smoothly on the mound for Midd.

Continuing in their winning mood, the Panther batsmen next displayed top notch form in defeating Hamilton College at Clinton by the decisive score of 9 to 1. The Midd-men pounded the Hamilton pitchers for a total of thirteen hits while Towne was holding the opponents to five. Whitney starred at bat with a record of five hits out of five times up.

On May 30 Middlebury lost to Springfield College in a very close game at Porter Field, by the tight margin of 1 to 2. A hard pitching duel between Crawley of the visitors and Witham featured this game, neither man allowing a single base on balls, and Witham holding Springfield scoreless from the early part of the fray.

The varsity retrieved itself on June 3 at Winooski when it triumphed over St. Michael’s by 10 to 6 in a loosely played game, marked by frequent errors. This proved an easy victory for Middlebury, as Towne kept the local team well under control and the Panther batters found themselves in a great hitting streak.

The final game of the season was a great victory for the team. Before a large crowd of alumni, the varsity ran wild over St. Michael’s and wound up with the grand total of 12 to 0. Witham, pitching his last game for Middlebury, starred on the mound, allowing only one hit and making eight strikeouts. He was backed up on the bases by perfect fielding which included several double plays. The Blue sluggers collected a total of 13 hits, including three 3-baggers and a circuit clout. Middlebury scored in every inning but the sixth and seventh, and Klevenow finished his baseball career by knocking a home run in the eighth.

Varsity Squad

Hargreaves (Coach), Collins, Eddy, Sorensen, Maynard, Ryan, Johnson, (Manager)
Hasselline, Towne, Knowles, R. Rice, W. Rice, McNeil
A fine squad turned out at the call of Coach Hargreaves, the new mentor, when he inaugurated practice almost as soon as football season was over. His prospects for a good year were encouraging, for every letter man of the past season except Hollquist was on hand. In addition to these veterans, five of whom had already served three years on the varsity, two men from the 1927 Freshman championship team and several candidates of promise filled up the ranks. Coach Hargreaves soon had a good quintet whipped into shape. Captain Rice, Knowles, Rice, Towne, and McNeil and Maynard formed the mainstay of the squad at the start of the season.

The varsity broke even on the annual Christmas vacation trip. The Blue overcame the fast St. Stephen’s five at Annandale on Dec. 18 by the score of 29-26. On the following day they succumbed to Albany Pharmacal, 27 to 38. Captain Rice played one of the best games seen on an Albany court and the varsity led their opponents part of the time.

A short practice after Christmas holidays put the team on edge for the Williams-Amherst trip, and as it turned out, the Blue and White gave its finest exhibition of basketball in those two games. On Jan. 12 Williams lost to us after the battle, deadlocked at the end of regular time, had been carried into an overtime period. The Rice brothers starred for the five, each finding the hoop for fifteen points. The whole team showed at top form. Amherst took us into camp on the 15th, however, by the margin of 21-26, in spite of the excellent fight the Blue put up. The Sabrinas succeeded in tying the score a few minutes before the game was up and ran into a winning lead.

In the first home game on the schedule and the opener of the State Series Middlebury beat Norwich, 27 to 24. The contest was close throughout. The Cadets pushed the play hard, carrying a passing attack time and again under the Blue net, and took the short end of the score only because their shots on many attempts were poorly directed. Norwich led by a point at the end of the first half, but in the second the Panther quintet came back strong and flashing into a lead of three points, managed to hold it till the final whistle. Towne and Captain Rice starred on the offense.

New Hampshire invaded the home court on Feb. 5, and easily captured the long end of the 31 to 13 score. The Granite Staters put a tall bunch of hoopsters on the floor, and their height coupled with accurate shooting made them the strongest aggregation to face us this year. Although Midd. showed its usual speed in passing, the visitors ran up a substantial lead and were never threatened. This proved to be the worst defeat of the year.

However, always at their best when facing Vermont on their own court, the varsity staged a strong comeback and gave the Green and Gold the best battle of the season when they played at Burlington on the 6th. Handicapped by a 6-point Vermont margin at the end of the half, the Panther five came back strongly to uncork a whirlwind attack and tie the score 28 up when time was called. In the overtime period the Vermonters managed to pile up 5 points in rapid succession and came out on top by the mark of 33 to 28. Captain Rice and Sorenson, newly a member of the varsity, tied for high honors for Midd. with 9 points apiece, while Prentice with 12 starred for the Green and Gold.

On Feb. 8 Coach Hargreave's charges met one of the strongest teams Union has had for years and were defeated in the fastest game of the year by 34 to 22. While the New Yorkers always managed to maintain a lead the dazzling Midd. passing attack threatened constantly and the score might have been closer if Union's greater height had not given them a big advantage. Sorenson and Towne accounted for most of Middlebury's markers.

The jinx still stuck with the team on its Bay State trip, although in those three games the Blue and White played up to top-notch form. Boston University was the first to defeat us, by the score of 33 to 28. The Panther five forced B. U. to their best, but Captain Leonard of the Terriers put them ahead and they managed to maintain the lead. The following night the varsity suffered another setback at the hands of Tufts, when the Jumbos managed to capture a margin at the end of a fast see-saw game, and emerged victors; score 25 to 20. However, in the last game of the trip the Middlebury hoopsters found themselves and forced the unbeaten M. A. C. five to their limit in order to keep their record clean. The Aggies won by only a narrow two points and owe their victory mainly to their success at foul-shooting. The Blue and White outplayed their opponents and scored more field goals. A new combination proved strong on the defense, and Knowles took first honors for both teams in scoring with eight tallies from the floor to his credit.

The varsity visited Northfield on Feb. 19 and came away with Norwich's scalp when they won the final State series game with these rivals, 27 to 19. Midd. held a safe lead from start to finish and was never seriously threatened by the soldiers. Sorenson, playing at center, shone for Middlebury by sending ten points through the hoop.

On the 22nd we journeyed to Winooski and won the first of the two-game series with St. Michael's by the margin of 34 to 25. The game was closer than the score indicates. The Purple and Gold put up a hard fight and succeeded in tying the score before the end of the first half. The Panthers had to extend themselves to maintain their margin, and did not show up as well on the defense as in some of the past games.

With the chance to tie up the State Series with Vermont dangling within reach and our team one of the strongest in several years, Captain Rice led his men onto the floor on Feb. 26 to make the big try at the final game with the Green and Gold. But the Vermont five put up a desperate game and, mainly by greater height and skillful foul-shooting, captured the title again, by the score of 30 to 24. The game was bitterly contested throughout. Neither team was able to hold an advantage very long. The score was tied six different times during the battle, and most of the time the Vermonter were able to keep a lead of only one or two points. The entire team played their best and tried desperately to swing the game, but at the very end the Vermont five tallied six points on a sudden rally and won. Prentice was the outstanding scorer for U. V. M., while the Rice brothers starred for Midd. on the offense, both Knowles and Hasseltine playing topnotch basketball on the defense.

The five finished the season with a victory over St. Michael's in the gym on Mar. 2, when they nosed out a 21 to 20 victory—the closest contest of the year. St. Mike's were right on their toes and kept the issue in doubt till the final whistle by putting up a pretty brand of basketball. Middlebury had a two-point margin at the end of the half, and the score was tied more than six times as first one side and then the other took the lead. This victory was a fitting one, for it marked the last appearance in uniform of five veterans, each with a four-year varsity career—Captain R. Rice, W. R. Rice, Knowles, Towne and McNeil.

The loss of these mainstays of the squad will be felt next year, and Captain-elect Hasseltine and Sorenson will doubtless form the nucleus of the new squad. Prospects are favorable in the material of the two lower classes, and Middlebury can look forward with some hope of turning out a five which can equal the showing made by the veteran team of this season. Although they lost 9 games, winning 6, they made a record for themselves in holding their strong opponents to close scores. Handicapped as the quintet was by lack of height, it proved itself one of the best that Middlebury has put on the floor.

SUMMARY OF THE SEASON

Although obliged to start the season with almost entirely new material, Coach Brown built up a track team which was well able to keep up the high standard of past years and which furnished stiff competition for all the colleges it met throughout the season. At the beginning of spring practice the squad had to be reorganized owing to the loss of many of the 1924 stars, but there were plenty of candidates, and before the schedule had been completed the team had not only rounded into fine shape but gave great promise for future seasons. Middlebury won two meets—one by a big margin; competed in the New England Intercollegiates, and in a very closely contested meet lost the State Championship to the University of Vermont for the first time in nine years. With all of last year’s stars in college, the indications are that Middlebury will have a strong 1926 team and once again regain her supremacy of the State in track.

The unseasoned varsity started the season with a rush in nosing out Hamilton College in a closely contested meet at Clinton on May 2. The meet was so even that the two teams were deadlocked when the call came for the javelin throw, and in the shot put Captain Cass led the weight men in clinching the battle for Midd. “Al” took second place in the 16 pound shot put with McLaughlin third and shortly afterward took first place in the discus throw with a heave of 121 feet. Then the trio of Cass, Whitney, and McLaughlin captured first, second, and third in the hammer throw, and these deciding points placed victory in the Panther’s grasp. The final score—Middlebury—69 1/3, Hamilton—66 2/3.

Happ, Firman and Carboy placed first, second and third respectively in the 110 yard dash and Happ and Firman placed first and second again in the 200, the last race of the meet. “Al” Cass broke the college record for the discus throw established by Potratz, ’22 when he threw the discus 123 feet 8 3/4 inches for first place. The final score—Middlebury 72, Rensselaer 63.

The track team suffered its first setback of the season at Amherst on May 15th when Lord Jeff triumphed 90 1/2 to 43 1/2. Middlebury was handicapped by the absences of Happ and Carboy, who were out on account of injuries sustained in the R. P. I. Meet the week before.

“Bill” Donald, freshman, captured first in both the 440 yard dash and in the half mile. He ran the 440 in 53 seconds and nosed out Low of Amherst in the half mile run by a scant yard in two minutes, three and one fifth seconds. Captain Cass won first in the javelin and discus. Only two men scored in the high hurdles due to the fact that Schaefer of Middlebury did not finish and the Amherst man, who finished second, was disqualified. Final score—Middlebury 45, Amherst 90 1/2.

Middlebury entered only three men in the New England Intercollegiates at Tech. Field on May 22nd and 23rd, and meeting some of the best track men in this section of the country, failed to score. However, the showing was not unsuccessful as two college records were broken. Captain Cass hurled the javelin 150 feet 4 ½ inches to smash the record established by Eddy '27 last season. "Bill" Donald, who won the 880 in every dual meet this season, missed out in this event by about a foot for fourth place. His time was 2:01 1/5 and the time for the winner was 1:55, which established a new record for the N. E. I. Boston College and Bowdoin tied for first place in the meet with 24 points each.

For the first time in nine years Middlebury lost the State Track Championship, when the University of Vermont scored a 66 to 54 1/2 victory over the Blue runners on May 29 on Porter Field, Norwich University trailing with 14 ½ points. The meet was very closely contested throughout, and spectators were furnished many thrills as the Blue and White and the Green and Gold fought it out for first honors in this annual classic. Vermont early jumped into the lead when Shaw placed first in the 120 yard high hurdles and Crouder nosed out Happ for first in the 100 yard dash. From then on she held the lead with a fair margin until Donald took first honors in the 880 and Happ broke tape with Crouder in the 220. Vermont then came back strong by capturing eight points in the pole vault and five in the javelin throw, the last two events, and Middlebury saw its long-held supremacy shattered. Three marks were broken in the field events—all by Vermont men. Captain Hill set a new state record in the hammer throw with a heave of 139 feet, 11 ½ inches; Whitten raised the mark in the pole vault to 11 feet, six inches, while Simpson made a new standard for the javelin of 147 feet, 8 ¾ inches.

SUMMARY OF THE SEASON

While the Cross-Country team failed to win all but one of its four meets this season, it nevertheless made several noteworthy performances.

On October 9 the strong Harvard team defeated the Panther runners in a stiff race run over the University's new five-mile course, by the score of 17-47. Donald, first Midd-man, placed fourth, and Whiting, Arnold, Dodd and Captain Kelley also tallied. The varsity again took a defeat at Williamstown on October 24, when the fleet Williams College team, running five members of its past season's New England Inter-Collegiate champions, showed the way home to a 19-36 score. Although run over a sticky course, the time for the race was within thirty seconds of the course record; the Blue and White men showed at top form, and Donald finished second after leading the pack till in sight of the tape. On October 31 the team suffered a third loss in the only home meet of the season when R. P. I. outran them to the tune of 20-35. Donald, travelling a slippery six miles, set a new record when he clipped twenty-five seconds off the mark made by Cook '24 in 1922, crossing the line in 33 minutes, 11 seconds. Stoughton and Captain Kelley also finished for Middlebury: In the final meet of the season the Blue and White harriers showed their heels to U. V. M. in a hotly contested race by the score of 22-35, on November 14. Donald again led the way around, Post of U. V. M. was second, and Arnold, Robinson, Dodd, and Lathrop placed for the Blue as well.

SUMMARY OF THE SEASON

Professor Adams found some very good material to make use of in his first season as coach of this rather new sport at Middlebury, and although handicapped by the condition of the courts, was able to turn out a team of netmen who made a very creditable showing. While the Blue lost all but one match, every one was by close margins and only surrendered after a hard-fought contest, when victory was snatched from the Panther's grasp by last-minute turns in the game.

Middlebury opened the season with a tie match with Worcester Tech on May 16, following which a New England trip took the netmen to Springfield where Springfield College defeated them on May 20 and Wesleyan's strong team repeated by winning decisively on May 21. The varsity continued its streak of poor success by again losing on May 28, this time to the fast and clever team which the University of Vermont put on the courts against them. The last match of the season was probably the best on the schedule, for although the team failed to beat Springfield, the men showed their best form and pressed every point so closely that the match was not decided until the final set.

In every respect the past hockey season was the best that Middlebury has ever enjoyed. The sextet won five out of their eight games, and in the case of two of the three defeats were downed by the margin of only one goal. The squad was fortunate in having the services of five of the past year’s veterans — Captain McLaughlin, Twichell, Conley, Simmons and Whittemore formed the nucleus of the new team.

The varsity in a vacation trip lost to the fast Hamilton sextet 2-3 in a game that went into two overtime periods, at Clinton. The next trip took the Blue and White to M. A. C. where we won 2-1, in a hot contest which again required two extra overtimes; and then to the Amherst rink to lose 2-3. In the first game of the Vermont series, played in Burlington on February 15, we completely outplayed the Green and Gold after allowing them a two-point lead, 3-2. The third tour of the year saw us defeat R. P. I. 2-1 and lose to the strong Army rinkmen by the score of 1-3. The season ended in fine shape in two fast games on the home rink when the Panthers nosed out Union 4-5 and again outclassed U. V. M. in easy style, winning from the upstaters 5-0. H. Whittemore and Kelley starred for us throughout the season on the offense and Captain McLaughlin and Conley did great work on the defense.

THE opening of College last fall found the Frosh with fine possibilities for a successful season. First call was answered by the appearance of nearly half the men in the class; from this fine material Coach Riegelman was able to turn out an eleven which displayed real ability in the early sessions of practice. Handicapped somewhat throughout the season by lack of weight, the Cub team made up for it in fighting spirit, swiftness of attack, and clever use of the forward pass.

The Frosh opened their schedule with a victory by defeating Mineville High School, 30-0. Although the field was soggy with rain and handicapped all real football, the yearling backs cut loose with a hard attack that functioned well behind a balanced line, and galloped through the mud for five touchdowns. Willis, Henry and Sherman carried the ball over for the tallies, while the Mineville boys were unable to advance it past mid-field.

In the second game of the season, at Hanover on October 10, the heavy Dartmouth Freshman eleven handed the cubs a 24-0 defeat. The game was played under the most adverse weather conditions and the Green yearling backs were able to make long gains, especially during the second half; but the Blue and White was unable to launch any kind of an offensive.

The following week saw the Frosh come back strong and show real power in crushing Vermont Academy at Saxtons River, 15-0. The game showed a marked improvement over the Dartmouth contest; at no time was the Blue goal-line seriously threatened, while the Frosh were able to make long and consistent gains through the Academy's line. Henry went over for the first touchdown in the second quarter, and made a long dash again in the fourth which placed the ball in position for Willis to circle the end fifteen yards for another score. In the third quarter a series of passes forced the play deep into V. A. territory and resulted in a safety.

The Panther cubs continued their winning streak by sweeping over the University of Vermont Freshmen for a 27–0 victory on Oct. 24. They unleashed a whirlwind attack in which Henry and Willis starred, consistently tearing through the Green and Gold team for long gains. On the defense the Midd line proved a stone wall, except in the last few minutes of play, when Vermont, fighting stubbornly, carried the ball to the seven-yard line in a steady advance. The yearlings were able to make headway almost at will against their opponents either through the line or by use of the forward pass. Henry scored the first touchdown after he had raced forty yards through a breach in the U. V. M. line and Willis had carried the leather within scoring distance by a series of line bucks; Twice in the second quarter penalties for offside prevented Midd. from scoring; but Henry intercepted a Vermont pass and advanced the pigskin to the 15-yard line, from which a forward to Hellauer placed it behind the goal line. In the third quarter Ransom pounced on a fumble by the Green and Gold quarterback and Henry plunged through the line for a third tally. Later in the same period Ransom intercepted another Vermont pass and raced it back to the one-yard line, from where Hellauer plowed through center for the final touchdown.

The Frosh were administered their second defeat when they suffered a severe trimming from the powerful Williston Academy team at Williston on

Cheerleaders in Action—Vermont Frosh-Middlebury Frosh Game
Nov. 7, by the score of 32-15. Outweighed and handicapped by the loss of Henry, who was seriously injured in the second quarter, Riegelman’s men put up a hard fight. Williston, gaining the ball after an exchange of punts, advanced by short gains down the field for the first touchdown. The Panther cubs immediately came back with a similar drive, Willis carrying the ball, and he took it over for Midd’s first score in the second quarter. The Academy again tallied on a Middlebury fumble, and kicked the goal. The third quarter was scoreless, but in the fourth the home team opened up an aggressive attack and rolled up two more touchdowns—one on a 70-yard run. In the last minute of play the Blue and White rallied. Ransom tore off a 45-yard gain; Hawkins made twenty-five more on a forward pass, and Smith went over on another scoring Midd’s final touchdown.

The yearlings dropped the final game to Montpelier Seminary by a score of 7-6. The contest was a bitter one from start to finish. The ball continually see-sawed up and down the field, with the evenly-matched elevens fighting for its possession every minute of the time. The Frosh started with a rush, Willis charging through the line for a touchdown on the third play. The extra point was not made. In the second quarter the Seminary forced the ball to Midd’s five-yard line and scored at the opening of the third period, also succeeding on the try for goal. The remainder of the game was a battle from one end of the field to the other, with first the Seminary and then the Freshmen within scoring distance but failing to get the ball over. The play ended on the Frosh’s 20-yard line.

ELBERT H. HENRY
Injured in the Williston Seminary Game
The object of the Association is to promote and supervise the athletic activities of the college and stimulate interest in all forms of exercise. This year, physical education being required of all Sophomores has caused a greater interest in inter-class competition; the Association is striving also to have all upperclassmen interested in athletics.

FRATERNITIES
THE INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

The Interfraternity Council is the governing body for all the social fraternities of the men’s college, with the exception of Delta Upsilon, which withdrew from the organization in 1925. This body has sole power to make, interpret, and enforce all rushing and interfraternity rules concerning the co-operating fraternities, and has final jurisdiction in all matters arising therefrom. The Council is composed of a Senior and a Junior from each co-operating fraternity—a total membership of twelve.

THE 1925 HANDBOOK

The Handbook, the Middlebury Freshman Bible, after the lapse of a year was again published last September, this time under the auspices of the Middlebury Christian Association with the College Y. W. C. A. cooperating. An exceedingly creditable booklet of some one hundred fifty pages was the result. The publication is a source of general information in regard to the college, regulations, activities, tradition, ideals, and associations, and as such is of invaluable aid not only to the Freshmen but to the other classes as well.

THE Young Women's Christian Association has for its purpose the developing of body, mind and spirit of its members. Weekly meetings are made interesting and helpful by special speakers and discussions. In addition to its religious program Y. W. is an important social factor of the college life. The Big Sister plan as conducted by Y. W. has done very effective work. Special interest has been shown this year in the rural discussion groups, composed of students who intend to do community work or teach in small villages.

The program of the Women’s Glee Club for last year included in addition to the home concert, concert trips to Vergennes, East Middlebury, and Rutland. The Club met with great success, winning first place at the annual musical contest at Rutland. A similar program is to be carried out this year.

The Glee Club now comprises twenty-five voices, selected from a large number of prospects. A scholastic requirement has been made, further limiting the membership of the organization.

The success of the Club is largely due to the excellent directing of Miss Prudence Fish, who has been in charge of the Club for two years.

THE GLEE CLUB

Under the excellent direction of Professor Larsen Middlebury is again represented by an exceedingly creditable musical organization in the Glee Club of the Men's College. On February 15th the Club participated in the Sectional Intercollegiate contest at Boston, and while the comparative standing attained in the contest has not been officially announced at time of closing of the Kaleidoscope forms, it is certain that Middlebury ranked well toward the top. Following the Easter recess there are to be one or two more trips away as well as a home contest sometime during the spring.

THE COLLEGE BAND

Mr. Joseph Lechnyr

Director

The revival of the College Band this year, due largely to the efforts of Dean Edgar J. Wiley, has given to the college an organization of real merit which has done much to enliven the various activities of the year.

Under the very able direction of Mr. Joseph Lechnyr of Burlington, the leader of the Burlington Symphony Orchestra, the leader of the Burlington Military Band, and the leader of the University of Vermont Band, the Middlebury organization has rapidly attained a very high degree of proficiency.

Besides playing for athletic contests throughout the fall, the Band has given a concert and has made a very successful trip to Fort Edward and Glens Falls, N. Y., and to Brandon, Vermont. During the spring months it will be again a prominent feature of the athletic contests and of Junior Week.

The Band is partially subsidized by the College Trustees.

DEBATING SEASON, 1925

The 1925 debating season was an outstanding one from several points of view. A schedule of eight varsity debates was successfully completed and the general interest in debating in the college was greatly heightened. Three-men teams were used exclusively and the so called Oxford system of extemporaneous speaking was found to be highly satisfactory. The question: “Resolved, That Congress should be given the power to pass a measure over the veto of the Supreme Court by a two-thirds vote.”

THE SEASON’S RECORD

February 27 at Winooski Park, Vt., St. Michael’s 2, Middlebury 1.
March 5 at Springfield, Mass., Springfield 0, Middlebury 3.
March 12 at Medford, Mass., Tufts 3, Middlebury 0.
March 19 at home, Univ. of Maine 1, Middlebury 2.
March 25 at home, Univ. of Vermont 0, Middlebury 5.
March 31 at Worcester, Mass., Clark Univ. 0, Middlebury 3.
April 2 at Waterville, Me., Colby College 2, Middlebury 1.

THE WETHERELL PRIZES

These prizes, given in memory of Professor Wetherell are awarded each year to the men showing the greatest interest and proficiency in debating. The 1925 awards were:

First prize $30 to Dana S. Hawthorne, ’26.
Second prize $20 to Oscar W. Cooley, ’25.

SEASON, 1926

With the graduation of seven experienced debaters in the class of 1925, varsity debating prospects received a severe blow. An early season encounter was thought advisable. On November 20, 1925, a team composed of Jackson, Hade, and Hawthorne won over Syracuse University in Mead Chapel. This debate was on the World Court question.

The Spring season opened on March 5 at Burlington when Middlebury defeated Vermont by a unanimous decision of the judges. On March 9 the same team defeated 5-0 a team of women debaters from the University of New Hampshire. The question in both debates was: “Resolved, That the anthracite coal mines of the U.S. should be owned and operated by the Federal Government.”

Other debates scheduled were:

Colby College at Waterville, Me.
Boston College at Newton, Mass.
University of Maine at Orono, Me.

The Christian Association was organized in November, 1924, by a small group of men who believed that there was a real need for a Christian program on the Middlebury Campus. During the past two years the Association has continued to build a place for itself in an already overcrowded list of activities. Publishing the Freshman Handbook is but one of the services of the Association to the in-coming classes and to the student body. Under strong leadership it is expected the work will soon merit the employing of a full-time Graduate Secretary. The association and fellowship in Christian service has had a positive and enriching influence on the life of the College.
THE Wig and Pen was organized under the name of the Dramatic Club in 1922, and since then has met with the greatest success, so that now it has become an integral part of college activities at Middlebury. It includes in its membership over half of the student body. The enrollment of supporting members includes both students and faculty. The enrollment of active members includes those interested in all phases of dramatics as well as those interested in the acting.

This year the club has been divided into groups by classes; in this way every member of the club takes part in some play during the college year. The members of the play production course have been given the positions of directors for the groups. The scenery of all the plays is created by the students themselves.

Much of the success of the club's undertakings is due to the work of Professor Cady, who in addition to offering an excellent course in play production, personally supervises the larger productions.

Among the many successful one-act plays produced this year are: "The Boy Comes Home," "The Flower of Yeddo," "Lonesomelike," "The Exchange."

Some of the most notable longer plays are: "Charley's Aunt," produced by a Sophomore cast, and directed by L. Earle Lebowitz; "Grumpy," directed by Professor Cady, assisted by W. H. Purdy; and "The Goose Hangs High," with an all Freshman cast, and directed by J. Audrey Clark.

BLESSED for the first time in several years with favorable weather, the Annual Junior Week as managed by the class of 1926 was an unqualified success.

The lid to the week’s activities popped off with a bang when what was undoubtedly the most unique advertising feature Middlebury ever experienced was sprung on a startled college—namely the mock political campaign for the presidency of the college. This stirring struggle, the pictures of the candidates and managers of which may be found on page 204, involved everything from impassioned suffragette advocates to torchlight processions; and terminated in a grand rush to the polls at the Norwich baseball game, from which Col. Paul Whosis Ward ’25, the advocate of efficient graft, emerged victorious.

To attempt to describe adequately the details of the week would be impossible, those who saw them have memories which the written page could not enhance, and to those that did not see the events no description could impart the reality of life. One event however deserves special mention, the number in the Inter-Fraternity Stunt program wherein an Ad. Board meeting of a certain New England College was presented to an audience which howled with glee.

JUNIOR PROMENADE

To the beguiling melodies of Morey Pearls’ Orchestra from Boston some ninety couples danced the midnight hours away in McCullough Gymnasium on Friday evening, May eighth.

The Class of 1926, original in the management of this event as in all those of the week, had transformed the bare gymnasium by streamers of green and white, the class colors, and with evergreen boughs. In addition, as a novelty feature, there appeared to the surprised eyes of all an old time bar upon the stage, complete in every detail, even to the footrail. From this Dinty Moore and staff dispensed soft drinks and pretzels.

The chaperones were President and Mrs. Moody, Professor and Mrs. A. M. Brown, Professor and Mrs. J. S. Kingsley, Miss Ruth Temple, and Mrs. Maud O. Mason.
JUNIOR PLAY

"THREE LIVE GHOSTS"

A Comedy in Three Acts

By Fredeus Islam and Max Marcin

When grave-yards yawn, and tombs give up their dead, most surprising things may happen, if we are to take as an illustration the story of "Three Live Ghosts," a play of London Cockney life wherein the majority of the characters are not, to say the least, actuated by idealistic motives.

This rollicking comedy gave to a crowded house an evening of hearty laughs and many chuckles. All of the cast were admirably chosen, but Miss Prentice as the Cockney boarding house keeper was inimitable.

Beneath a cloudless sky escorted by Junior girls bearing the traditional daisy chain, and led by the Junior marshalls, Alfred Knowles and Miss Juanita Pritchard, the Class of 1925 passed in procession from Egbert Starr Library to the stands erected on lower campus where the exercises were held.

President Moody made announcement of the following honors: Valedictory, F. Beacom Rich and Miss Ruth M. Collins; Salutatory, Thomas O. Carlson and Miss Alice P. Sargent. In regard to these awards President Moody stated that Miss Katherine Simonds who received the highest rank among the women was ineligible for the Valedictory honor, having been at Middlebury only three years, and having transferred from an institution where numerical ratings were not maintained. Ten men and nineteen women were granted cum laude honors; four men and four women, magna cum laude; and summa cum laude was granted to F. Beacom Rich. Twenty two members of the class were elected to Phi Beta Kappa.

The award of the Kellogg Latin prizes was made equally to Marjorie A. Billings '27, and Cleone Comings '27. The Boardman Peace Prize was not awarded this year.

SENIOR BALL

JUNE 16, 1925

The last social activity of the Class of 1925, the Senior Ball in McCullough Gymnasium, was an evening of merry making, tinged with regret on the part of the seniors at the thoughts of leaving forever "the college on the hill." A reunion of alumni, students and friends, the occasion was a fitting conclusion to a Commencement week of unusual success. The Domino Club Orchestra of Troy, New York, furnished the music.

The patrons and patronesses of the evening were President and Mrs. Paul D. Moody, Dean and Mrs. Edgar J. Wiley, Professor and Mrs. Arthur M. Brown, Miss Ruth Temple, and Mrs. Maud O. Mason.

SENIOR CHAPEL SERVICE

Following the custom established two years before, the Class of 1925 gathered in the early morning light of the seventeenth of June at Mead Memorial Chapel, to clasp each other's hands once more in friendship, and to wish each other "God Speed," as the sun rose above the eastern hills and the familiar chimes rang out over the well known campus.

THE SOPHOMORE HOP

The Sophomore class conducted an excellent "Hop" on Thanksgiving Eve. Their clever decorations, done in red and gray, were of credit to the committee; and the music that the Domino Club Orchestra, of Troy, supplied, was in itself enough to make the evening an enjoyable one. The patrons and patronesses were: President and Mrs. Paul D. Moody; Professor and Mrs. A. M. Brown; Miss Eleanor S. Ross; and Mrs. Maud O. Mason.

The professor who comes in ten minutes late is very scarce. In fact, he is a class by himself.—Purple Parrot.

Harvard Dame: "Oh, do you lecture on Hamlet, Professor? Don't you think that soliloquy is just divine? You know the one about 'You can fool some of the people all of the time, and all of the people some of the time.'"—Harvard Lampoon.
Joe knew his mathematics;
    He juggled Greek and French;
He tutored Dutch and Irish
    With a little Spanish wench.

Joe knew his economics;
    Wrote poetry and rhymes.
He studied hard his physics,
    And Bible, too, sometimes.

Joe got the dope on music,
    But hard as he could try
He couldn't get a co-ed,
    And couldn't figure why.

(The first guy that suggests "Emily Post's" will be shot!)

Prof. Swett: (In Geography Class) "According to statistics, Vermonters, in proportion to the population, take out the greatest percent of farm loans Speaking of swine—"

Crawford '28: (Approaching the librarian's desk) "Here's a book I took out that's overdue."
Miss McNeil: (Looking at him with amazement) "Do you go to college here?"

Attentions—things often mistaken by flappers for intentions.

"Sir, I believe you're trying to kiss me!"
"Well, now that you understand, suppose we quit assaulting each other and co-operate a little."—Jack-o-Lantern.

"What's all that noise upstairs?"
"Oh, that's only father dragging his heavy underwear across the floor."

"Teacher's pet! Teacher's pet!"
"No they don't. I tried it."—Ohio Sun Dial.

"Isn't there some fable about the ass disguising himself with a lion's skin?"
"Yes, but now the colleges do the trick with a sheepskin."—Washington Dirge.

Miss (to hotel clerk): "Someone's been tampering with the keyhole on my door. It's out of order."
Clerk: "I'll look into that tonight."—Salyr.

He: "With that tie, you look almost like a man."
She: "With that mustache so do you."—Wasp.
Professor Longwell: “And now, to get a clear picture of this prehistoric animal, you must focus your attention on me.”

DR. HARRY ASA NAPE’S HAIR TONIC

At the better confectionery and delicatessen shops

Mention it to your bootlegger

The Middlebury representative has interviewed the entire faculty of Middlebury College, and received their unanimous endorsement.

Professor Burrage testifies: “All the hair I have, and all the hair I can ever hope to have I owe to Doctor Nape’s hair tonic.”

“Technically speaking,” claims Prof. Bryant, “it has produced one of the most scientific benefits in the history of ‘barberism’.”

Professor Davison says: “Bawez (boys), it is the only altogether feasible and fallacious remedy ever invented to futile combat the scourge of dandruff.”

“And you know you’ll find it to be true that it mellows the scalp and psychologically facilitates the learning absorptive process,” said Prof. Adams.

President Moody writes us: “When I was in France I had the opportunity to interview the Prince of Wales who declared the Russians owe their tonsorial development to this marvelous tonic.”

“By and large, there is nothing to equal it in Addison County.” — Prof. Bonney.

Prof. Longwell confides: “Yes sir, it’s pretty good for you.”

“I think it’s the best thing there is. Consequently, I believe in it, fellahs I absolutely believe in it.” — Prof. Kingsley.

Professor Hade was the only faculty member who refused to endorse the tonic. He complained that it had caused his hair to grow so fast as to clog his safety razor.

“Are you a college man”?
“No, these are papa’s pants.” — Awywan.

He: “Dear, every kiss just intoxicates me—won’t you let me be a drunkard?”

She: “Well, er—yes; but on the condition that you won’t mix your drinks.” — The Log.

“Concentration is a person’s ability to keep his eyes on the cards in a strip poker game.” — Cornell Widow.

“Sarcasm is the sour cream of wit.” — Columbia Jester.

He held her closely to himself;
He lisped love words of men.
He ran his hand through her blond locks,
And kissed her once again.
He laughed the laugh of youth with her;
He toyed her velvet ears,
And left her on the davenport—
His daughter aged two years.
ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Book-making is a craft involving many different kinds of work and skill. The finished volume is a monument not alone to those whose names are upon the editorial page, but to a far greater class of men and women who have labored long and hard behind the scenes in order that the book might fittingly express the thought that gave it birth. Too often these loyal workers do not receive their due of praise. The reader knows only the names of an editorial staff, and is quite forgetful of the fact that editors alone do not publish a successful book, but only work in cooperation with an army of experts—printers, artists, photographers, and many others.

It is to offer heartfelt thanks to that army of helpers without whom this Kaleidoscope could never have been published that the 1927 Kaleidoscope Board here inserts this slight tribute of recognition. Words can not adequately express the gratitude we feel toward them, but they may serve as a token of the regard in which we hold them.

In particular we wish to express our gratitude to the following:

Mr. George R. Grady, Manager, New York Office of the Commonwealth Press, Worcester, Mass. The entire book has passed through Mr. Grady's hands. From him the editors have received always the highest degree of service and of courtesy. Due to his never tiring interest we have received suggestions enabling us to incorporate into the Annual features which would have otherwise been impossible. A master craftsman, and a loyal friend—that is our tribute to Mr. Grady.

To the New York Office staff and the plant of The Commonwealth Press, Worcester, Mass., for the splendid book that they have made for us.

The White Studio of New York, and to Miss Bessie E. Ellison in particular, for the extraordinary cooperation which we have received at every point involving the photography for the Annual.

The Eugene C. Lewis Co. of New York for the remarkable cover that we have obtained.

The Phoenix Engraving Company of New York for the fine work that they have done for us throughout.

Mr. Lynn Bogue Hunt who drew the wonderful Black Panther Head for the cover, and the full length Panther for the dedication page. Without his work the Black Panther theme of the volume would have been impossible of realization. Particularly do we wish to express our appreciation to him for completing the work while still convalescent from illness.

Miss Alice Henry of West Philadelphia, Pa.; Miss Madelyn W. Doy, and Miss Bernice R. Williams of Newburg, N. Y., whose drawings for the department openers are an outstanding feature of this book.

The Boston Post for permission to use their photos of the Mock Political Campaign.

The Harvard Crimson and the Yale Daily News for their kindness in furnishing views of athletic contests; although the same were not included in the Kaleidoscope.

All students of the college who have in any way helped to further the success of the Kaleidoscope.

Last, but not least, Our Advertisers, without whom the book would be impossible.
I went to the Animal Fair,
The Mascots all were there.
The Yale Bull-Dog
Was up on a log
Announcing a feature rare,
"My friends you soon will view
A Mascot who is new,
A Panther Black
Whose very track
Will nearly crack your heart in two."
The Princeton Tiger roared.
The Army Mule did bray.
The Old Brown Bear
Reared up in the air
And started to tear away.
But on the Panther came
And fought his way to fame.
The Mascots all
Both great and small
Have never been able his spirit to tame.

EPILOGUE

And on the Panther came
And fought his way to fame.
The Mascots all
Both great and small
Have never been able his spirit to tame.

THERE ARE PLEASURES IN OPERATING A STORE

LOTS of troubles, too, just as in any other method of making a living, but if the pleasures didn't outweigh the troubles we'd get out and do something else.

It's a pleasure to be of service to our friends and neighbors; to feel that we are exercising good taste and good judgment in buying for you; that we are giving good values when we sell.

But the greatest pleasure of all, it seems to us, is to see a well dressed man on the street, and say to ourselves: "There goes one of our suits."

That's a pleasure we enjoy several times every day.

AT A COLLEGE MAN'S SUGGESTION

A college man, familiar with the variety and quality of S. S. Pierce Co. products, suggested that we prepare an assortment of foods suitable for a spread in a student's quarters. We did. In fact, we prepared two such assortments, each containing choice sandwich fillings (in tins and jars so that they would keep) crackers, relishes, cake, fruit confections and sweets. We called them Student Gift Boxes.

The praise which these boxes have evoked from people who have received them and the continual orders for them indicate that they fill a real want!

Priced at $5 and $10. Descriptive list sent on request. Parents find these S. S. P. boxes particularly acceptable gifts.
